ILLNESS / EMERGENCY

Bee U Learning Center is not able to care for children with illness without risking the infection of others and the disruption of programs. If a child becomes ill during the school day they will be placed in an alternate part of the classroom in order to isolate the spread of germs or infection. Once this occurs the parent will be notified and must pick up their child as soon as possible. Upon return to school child must be fever free for at least 24-hours without medication. Below are reasons a child should not attend school:

- COUGH: A child with a cough that is persistent, deep, croupy, or congested. A physician must evaluate the child for coughs that persists for more than one (1) week.
- DIARRHEA or VOMITING: Diarrhea or vomiting is considered contagious. A child must not have an incident of diarrhea or vomiting for 24-hours before returning.
- FEVER: A rectal temperature of 102F or greater or an armpit temperature of 100F or greater would necessitate exclusion from school. A child's temperature must be normal for 24-hours before returning.
- NASAL DISCHARGE: A clear discharge may be from colds or allergies. If the discharge is moderate and can be attributed to an allergy, your child will be allowed to attend school. However, if a child has a consistent runny nose, which is difficult to keep from contaminating toys, clothing, etc. your child will be sent home. Nasal discharge that is cloudy, thick, green or yellow and/or has a foul odor must be evaluated by a physician.
- PAIN: If your child develops pain, i.e. earache, toothache, headache, you will be notified and the child will be sent home.
- CONJUNCTIVITIS (PINK EYE): Conjunctivitis is a very contagious and serious condition. The symptoms are red and itchy eyes with yellow or green discharge. Pinkeye must be treated with a prescription eye medication. Your child may return to Bee U Learning Center 24-hours after starting the medication. A doctor's note, indicating that the child has been seen and is under treatment, will be required.
- RASHES: All rashes will be considered contagious. If your physician determines that the cause of the rash is not contagious, your child may return to Bee U Learning Center with a note stating he/she is not contagious.
- TICKS AND SPLINTERS: Embedded ticks and splinters cannot be removed at the center. You will be notified to arrange to pick up your child from Bee U Learning Center.

Important Note If an emergency occurs that required hospitalization we will call you or your physician immediately. We will arrange for your child to be brought to Danbury Hospital by an Emergency Vehicle.

ADMINISTERING MEDICATION

Bee U staff will only administer medications with your written permission and your physician's. Parents must provide the medication with the proper authorization forms. Any powders, ointments, sunscreen and insect repellent are considered medication and must have a special non-prescription permission form filled out and on file. All items must be labeled with your child's name.

Parents can assist us by:

- Signing and dating the form, this can be picked up from the class or office.
- Making sure all medication is in the original container and the date, child's first and last name, doctor's name, and the dosage is plainly stated in the prescribed medication.
- Providing a measuring device that clearly indicates the correct dosage for the required medication.

Parents please know that:

- We cannot give a child their first dose of any medication.
- A child put on medication cannot return to school for 24-hours after taking the first dose.
- If a child goes to the Dr. in the middle of the day, they cannot return to school if they are put on medication.
- Only staff trained in the administration of medication will give children medicine.
- If we do not have a form on file we cannot administer medication.

COMING TO BEE U LEARNING CENTER

IN THE BEGINNING

The first few days in a new classroom can be both exciting and tiring for a child. There will be a lot of new and great experiences during the first few days; so many new people, new expectations will be set for them, and new school / classroom routines and procedures will be learned.

Our staff is trained to make this transition as wonderful and as smooth as it can possibly be. Through all of the emotions that come from this new experience, communication between family and our staff will be very important in helping your child deal with any potential difficult situation. Please know that our door is always open for you to visit at any time; in fact we welcome it!

PARENT / TEACHER RELATIONSHIP

Communication between the family and our teachers is the best way to ensure a positive experience for your child. Since parents know their child best, you can provide us with very valuable insight into their interests, behaviors, approaches to learning, motivations and other facets of your child. We ask all parents to share any concerns as well as goals you may have for your child's learning path.

In exchange, we will provide our knowledge of child development, and our many years of experience in childcare with parents. Our teachers will share insight into the child's ability to interact with others and adults in a group setting.

We will do our jobs better when all lines of communication are open and our parent's keep us current on any new changes at home that may affect your child. Parents may share brief comments with teachers at drop off. If a parent needs more time with the teacher, they can schedule a conference with the teacher or the office staff.

We will make each and every effort to ensure that parents are kept up to date. School programs are shared in a number of ways: newsletters, letter to parents, bulletin boards, emails, calendars and an occasional phone call. Please review all carefully as they contain important information that will be great and helpful to know.

COMMENTS, QUESTIONS OR CONCERNS

We make a strong effort to exchange information as freely and fully as we possibly can. We always encourage parents to ask questions, provide feedback and communicate any concerns that you may have. Concerns about your child or about the classroom should be directed to the head teacher. If resolve cannot be made, parents are able to meet with the director about the concern. The director will work to provide a reasonable solution to any issue after communicating with all parties.

DISCIPLINE POLICY

Our centers' approach to discipline is to be proactive. It is handled in a manner that instructs rather than punishes. We operate with the full understanding that young children are in the process of learning; we will use modeling and behavior modification in place of "time out". We always aim to provide guidance, redirection, set clear limits, set up an environment to avoid conflicts, all while constantly supervising your child.

Should the child's actions be more serious in nature or the above mentioned approaches are not working, the child will be removed from the situation and brought to a quiet area of the classroom away from where the conflict took place. A teacher will then review with the child what happened using the appropriate language and positive guidance. The teacher will be speaking to the child slowly, calmly, and firmly while explaining why the action is wrong. Once the child is aware, the teacher will then help the child rejoin their class.

If a child continually behaves in a manner that could cause potential harm to him/her or others or if the child frequently causes the group to become unruly, the Director will be notified by the teacher, and she will place a call to the child's parent. The parent will have 2-weeks to solve the issue. If the parent is unsuccessful also, we will ask the child to be removed from the center. All staff is familiar with this policy.

The Director reserves the right to request the removal of your child if behavioral or non-payment problems remain unresolved. Should this action be needed Bee U Learning Center will provide 2-weeks written notice.

Prohibited disciplinary measures would include:

1. Corporal punishment; for example, hitting, spanking, shaking, or any rough handling of the child.
2. Verbal abuse; this would include yelling at a child or name calling.
3. Psychological abuse; this would include humiliating, frightening, or threatening a child.
4. Neglect; would include ignoring a child's request for something such as assistance, poor supervision, or neglecting to do anything that would promote the welfare of the child.
5. There shall be no attempts to withhold food, drink, or outdoor playtime.

Our staff has been instructed to use the following methods to avert disciplinary problems and to promote positive behavior:

1. Staff must model good behavior at all times; in speaking to one another, in providing an orderly environment, and establishing a daily routine.
2. Staff must encourage good behavior with praise and redirect poor behavior whenever possible.
3. Staff is to always give simple and clear instruction to each child.
4. Staff is to utilize behavior modification techniques.
5. Staff will endeavor to redirect the child whenever possible in place of reprimand.

Our 5 Step Plan for Discipline:

1. Speak to the child slowly, calmly, and firmly while explaining why the action was wrong.
2. If a second reprimand is necessary, have the child sit close to the teacher or the assistant teacher during the activity.
3. Bring the child to the Director or the Head teacher for a talk.
4. Call the child's parents.
5. Remove the child from the center.

With regard to the discipline of the toddler child (12 months – under 3 years), all staff is instructed that no form of "time out" is to be used. The toddler child is best handled with affection in all situations. A simple "no", "we must not do that" is all that we would say to the child if he/she becomes aggressive with another child. In these instances, diversionary tactics would also be used. Simply removing the child from the situation and drawing his/her attention to some other plaything is all that would be done.
